Buckeye Industries is awarded grant from the Eva L. and Joseph M. Bruening Foundation for specially equipped van.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CLEVELAND, OH, September, 2011 – Buckeye Industries, a business enterprise of New Avenues to Independence, was recently awarded a grant for $23,000 from the Eva L. and Joseph M. Bruening Foundation. This will allow New Avenues to purchase a Ford Transit Connect van with a hitch and ramp for Buckeye Industries. The addition of the van will allow a staff person to safely and efficiently transport individuals, equipment and supplies to janitorial services customers. This will better represent the professionalism of Buckeye Industries and provide companies with more confidence in their services.

Buckeye Industries offers many benefits and advantages to its janitorial services customers:

- Industrial, retail and commercial cleaning
- Experienced staff
- Weekly, bi-weekly or monthly
- Meticulous attention to detail
- Experienced managerial team
- Customized program
- Free, no obligation plan and estimate

Not only do companies benefit from the professional services of Buckeye Industries but they also help their community by assisting individuals with disabilities to become more active and contributing citizens.

The overall goal of the Buckeye Industries program is to produce wage-earning opportunities for individuals with disabilities and help ensure the long-term sustainability of the organization. With the addition of this specially equipped van,

Buckeye Industries will be able to transport program participants, equipment and supplies and economically service company partnerships for janitorial services.
